Basic US tax overview

- Who needs to file a tax return in the US?
 - Non-resident Alien
 - Resident Alien (F-1 or J-1 student who passes the substantial presence test, a US Legal Permanent Resident, or individual on work visa)
 - Dual Status Alien (non-resident for part of the year and resident the other part)
- If you were not present in the US during 2015, you do not need to file a US tax return this tax season. Your first tax return will be due in 2017, for the 2016 tax year.

Basic US tax overview (cont'd)

- Your residency status for tax purposes is separate from your designation for immigration purposes:
 - For immigration purposes, a 'nonresident alien' is a foreign national who is in the US on a non-immigration visa
 - For US tax purposes, a 'nonresident alien' is a foreign national visa holder with certain US tax filing requirements and US tax withholding requirements.

Federal and State Taxation

- All individuals that are required to pay tax in the US, will pay both at federal and at state level.
- “Federal” refers to the US government and taxes are collected by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS).
- Tax payers may also be required to pay tax in the state where they live or work. In Massachusetts, taxes are collected by the Massachusetts Department of Revenue

US tax requirements

- General rule; all US source income, received by a nonresident alien, may be subject to US tax.
- Non-US sourced income, received by a nonresident alien, is not subject to US tax.
- A tax treaty between the US and your home country may provide for an exemption from tax in the US.
- All nonresident aliens with US source income should file tax form 1040NR or 1040NR-EZ and Form 8843, even if all income is tax exempt based on a tax treaty.

US tax requirements (cont'd)

- Filing deadline is April 15th.
- If there is no US source income, only form 8843 must be filed for F, J, or M visa holders. If ONLY filing form 8843, the deadline is June 15th.

US tax requirements (cont'd)

Is my US-sourced income subject to US tax?

1. Wages from employment	Yes
2. Scholarship payment (not used for tuition or course related expenses)	Yes
3. Fellowship payment (not used for tuition or course related expenses)	Yes
5. Lodging benefits	Yes
6. Investment income/interest income	Yes

If there is a tax treaty between the US and your home country, some income may be exempt from US tax. A tax treaty is applicable to both federal tax and state tax.

US tax requirements (cont'd)

Do I still have to file a tax return when:		Form:
I received no funding from a US source during 2015	Yes	8843
I'm leaving MIT and will be back in my home country soon	Yes	8843 and possibly 1040NR*
I don't have to pay any tax in the US because there is a tax treaty between the US and my home country	Yes	8843 and possibly 1040NR*

* If you have US-sourced income to report

Social Security Number (SSN) or ITIN

- To file tax forms & claim treaty benefits, IRS requires a nonresident alien to have either a
 - Social Security Number (“SSN”) or
 - Individual Taxpayer Identification Number (“ITIN”)
- NOT a National ID number
- Protect your SSN or ITIN!
- <http://web.mit.edu/iso/students/ssn.shtml>

Social Security Number (SSN)

- Must apply in person

 - within 30 days of employment start date
- Who MUST apply?

- Students with RA/TA or work on campus must apply
 - Recommendation letter from ISO required
 - Letter from department
 - See ISO SSN website for details: <http://web.mit.edu/iso/students/ssn.shtml>

Individual Taxpayer Identification Number (ITIN)

- Issued for Federal Tax reporting only
- Who needs one?
 - F-1 with fellowships, grants who cannot get an SSN
 - F-2 dependents of Canada, India, S. Korea, and Mexico if F-1 has U.S. source income and F-2 is claimed as exemption on tax forms
- How to get an ITIN:
 - Fellowship recipients should file for ITINs immediately
 - All others, apply for ITIN when you file taxes in April
 - Bring all documents & completed tax return forms to Boston IRS Taxpayer Assistance Center (TAC) by appointment only
 - <https://www.irs.gov/uac/Contact-My-Local-Office-in-Massachusetts>
 - <https://www.irs.gov/uac/ITIN-Authenticating-TACs-Link>

US Tax Status Determination

- F and J student visa holders are generally considered non-resident aliens during their first 5 calendar years (including partial years) in the U.S.
- MIT Payroll uses the Glacier Tax Compliance System to determine if you are a non-resident alien or a resident alien for tax purposes, and if you are eligible for a tax treaty.
 - Note: Glacier Tax Compliance is not connected to ISO's Glacier Tax Prep used to file federal tax returns
- Payroll Tax Resources found at <http://vpf.mit.edu/site/payroll>
- Email payroll@mit.edu

Tax Treaties

- Tax treaties for:
 - research/teaching assistants exempt the student from federal and state taxes on their assistantship payments up to the tax treaty exemption limit
 - student Fellows exempt the student from federal taxes on their Fellowship stipend up to the tax treaty exemption limit
- Payments in excess of the exemption limit are withheld at the same rates as Fellows or Assistants without tax treaties
- MIT will issue a 1042S for income exempt from tax due to a tax treaty
- IRS Publications 515 and 901 detail treaty benefits to nonresident aliens

Research and Teaching Assistantships

- TA and RA Assistantships payments are for services and treated as taxable wages
- Hourly paid positions including UROPs are considered taxable wages
- Students without tax treaties or with tax treaties whose assistantship payments exceed the tax treaty exemption limit will receive a W-2 tax form
- MIT issued W-2s on Jan 22
- W-2s can be accessed on Atlas via the About Me tab
- Students with wages covered under a tax treaty will receive a Form 1042S
- MIT issued Form 1042-S on Feb 17th via mail

Fellowships

- Fellowships are subject to 14% federal tax withholding (for non-resident alien students F, J, M & Q) unless exempt because of a tax treaty
- Fellowships used for qualified expenses are generally excluded from income; Qualified expenses include tuition and enrollment fees, books, supplies and equipment required for course work
- Room and board and other expenses such as travel are non-qualified and taxable
- Publication 970 (2015), Tax Benefits for Education
- MIT issued Form 1042-S on Feb 17th via mail
- MIT will not withhold taxes for Massachusetts purposes
- Consider estimated tax payments for state

Massachusetts State Taxes

- MA Taxes for Individuals
- Form 1 and Form 1 NR/PY
 - Determine “Residency” – Resident, Nonresident, Part-Year Resident
 - <http://www.mass.gov/dor/individuals/filing-and-payment-information/personal-income-tax-faqs/nonresidents-and-part-year-residents-faqs.html>
- Who needs to file?
 - The answer depends on the source and amount of your income. It also might depend on whether you will receive a refund.
 - <http://www.mass.gov/dor/individuals/>
- Form MA 1099-HC – Proof of Health Insurance Coverage for MA adult residents, File with MA State Tax forms, if necessary, otherwise, keep in your files.

Useful Tips: Tax Filing Deadline

- The individual income tax filing deadline for the 2015 tax year is April 19, 2016. Note that in other years, the deadline is April 15th!
 - You can extend this filing deadline for 6 months by filing an extension (Form 4868) by April 19, 2016.
 - BUT if you extend, you must still pay your 2015 tax liability by April 19, 2016. Extension of filing, does not extend your time to pay!
 - If you are extending, do your best to estimate your taxes owed, if any, and make a payment with your extension by April 19, 2016.

Useful Tips: Tax Filing Process

- When you file your return, you will not receive a notification that the return has been received by the IRS.
 - If asked by the IRS, you must prove you timely filed.
 - If you filed by mail, make sure to get proof of delivery from the postal service (certified mail, return receipt requested, or delivery confirmation)
- Make photocopies of your all of your tax documents and keep them for your records! Keep all tax records for at least 3 years from the time you filed the return
- Note that all federal tax forms can't be e-filed. Only Mass tax forms can be e-filed.

Useful Tips: Missed or Incorrect Filings

- If you have not filed a return in previous years but you should have filed, you may still file a return for previous years, especially if you owe taxes to the IRS.
- If you filed a return and realized you made a mistake on your return, you may file an amended return to correct the mistake.
- Not filing a tax return or incorrect filing can result into penalties, interest and / or an audit by the IRS.

Useful Tips: Dealing with the IRS

- The IRS will always initiate a correspondence with you via mail letter notification
 - The IRS will never initiate contact via telephone or email to ask for personal or financial information
 - Beware of anyone calling, texting or emailing you unsolicited claiming to be from the IRS. It could be a potential scam.
 - An IRS agent speaking to you will always provide their IRS agent identification number. In any telephone or personal conversation with an IRS agent, always ask for the agent's name and ID number, write it down and save it for your records.

Useful Tips: IRS Notices

- Read the entire notice or letter carefully
 - The IRS only needs a response if (1) you don't agree with the information, (2) if they need additional information, or (3) if you have a balance due.
 - Respond within the required timeframe
 - If asked for a response within a specific timeframe, you must respond on time to minimize additional interest and penalty charges or to preserve your appeal rights if you don't agree.
 - If you disagree or have a question, contact the IRS by phone via number provided on the notice or letter

Useful Tips: IRS Audits

- If you are selected for a tax audit by the IRS:
 - Don't panic! Being selected for audit doesn't necessarily mean you did anything wrong. Audits can be at random or targeted.
 - Read IRS Publication 556, Examination of Returns, Appeal Rights and Claims for Refund which explains the audit process in more detail.
 - Often tax audits can be easily handled by yourself, but if you are uncomfortable with the process, unable to manage the process, or the issues are too complex, seek professional assistance

Delays with 2014 1040-NR and 1042-S

- Continued delays expected for refunds after filing 2014 Form 1040-NR with 1042-S
- IRS Notices and Correspondence Letters re: 2014 Forms 1040NR and 1040NR-EZ.
- At this time, MIT has been assured that the 1042-S forms produced by GLACIER Tax Compliance system and the 1040NR & 1040NR-EZ forms produced by the Glacier Tax Preparation Software are accurate.
- If you received a letter, contact the GTP Support Center at support@glaciertax.com or with ISO's GTP's Help link
- For 2015 Tax Returns, IRS states to allow up to 6 months from the original due date of the 1040NR or the date the student actually filed the 1040NR, whichever is later to receive any refund due.
